Unlike traditional "peel & stick" wall decals, transfer wall decals have a slightly different application process and take a little more preparation. If you bought a transfer wall decal, follow the steps in this simple guide to get your design applied successfully. Although it seems tricky at first, try it once and you'll be a seasoned pro!

Our wall decals are mostly the peel and stick kind. It's self-explanatory, just peel them from the liner and stick them on your wall or surface of choice. That's it! You can see a detailed application guide below:

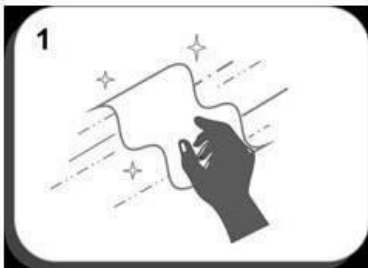

Clean and dry surfaces with mild soap and water. Make sure that the surface must be flat and cannot have any curve.

Peel off from backing paper

Apply to the surface side by side.

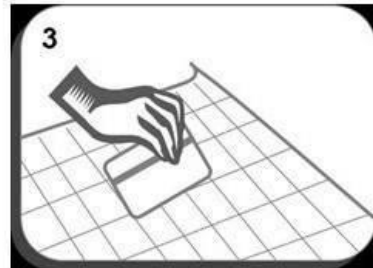

Using a card or similar object to squeeze out any air bubbles.

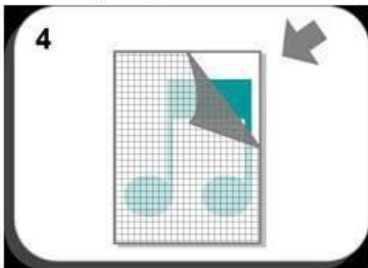

To apply the sticker, you need a smooth, dry and clean surface. To ensure such cleanliness, grab a cloth and give your surface a quick wipe down.

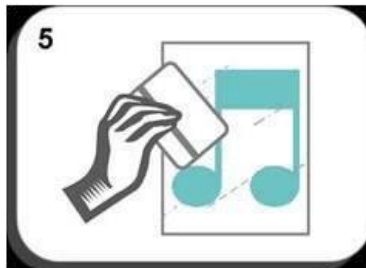

Tape your wall sticker onto your surface before removing the backing

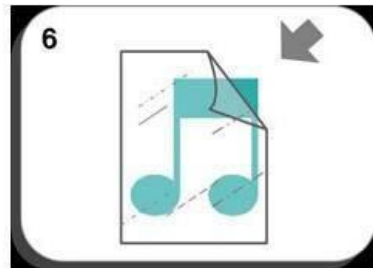

Lay it on a hard surface, graphic side down. Firmly rub the entire backing with your hand, a credit card, ruler, etc.

Start at one corner & slowly peel away the paper backing with a rolling action.

Hold two corners of the transfer tape and stick to your desired surface. Smooth one edge onto the surface first, to avoid wrinkles and bubbling, and continue firmly smoothing out the tape all the way down.

Slowly & tenderly roll the transfer tape along your surface from a corner.
